Relationships

- Business rule #1: Each application belongs to exactly one adopter.
- Business rule #2: Each adopter can submit many applications over time, or none.
- Business rule #3: Each application is for exactly one pet.
- Business rule #4: Each pet can receive many applications over time, or none.
- Business rule #20: Each application is handled by exactly one employee.
- Business rule #21: Each employee can handle many applications, or none.

Data

- Business rule #5: Every pet must have a name, species, status, date added, adoption fee and vaccination status. Breed and birth date are optional, but a dog, cat, rabbit or bird with no birth date needs an estimated age instead (Business rule #31).
- Business rule #6: Every adopter must have a first name, last name, phone, email, address and date of birth.
- Business rule #7: No two adopters can have the same email.
- Business rule #8: Pet status must be Available, Pending, Adopted or Returned.
- Business rule #9: Application status must be Pending, Approved or Rejected.
- Business rule #10: Species must be Dog, Cat, Rabbit, Bird or Other.
- Business rule #11: The adoption fee can’t be negative.
- Business rule #12: Pet and application IDs, the application date, the pet’s date added and the adopter’s date joined are filled in automatically. The store assigns employee IDs (badge numbers) and adopter IDs (a new adopter gets the largest ID + 1).

- Business rule #23: Every employee must have a first name, last name and department, and the department must be Adoption or Sales.
- Business rule #24: Each employee works in exactly one department at a time.
- Business rule #29: Dogs, cats, rabbits and birds have a set adoption fee for each age group. Dogs cost $250 under 1 year, $175 from 1 to 6 years, and $100 at 7 and up. Cats cost $150, $100 and $50. Rabbits cost $75, $50 and $25. Birds cost $100, $60 and $30.
- Business rule #30: A pet's age group is its age on the day it arrives, so its fee doesn't change while it waits for a home.
- Business rule #31: If a dog, cat, rabbit or bird has no known birth date, staff type an estimated age in whole years (0 means under 1 year, and 50 is the most). The price uses that age. A pet can't have both a birth date and an estimate.
- Business rule #32: Other animals have no set price. Staff type the fee, numbers only, from $10 to $75.

Eligibility and status

- Business rule #13: A pet must be Available and vaccinated to be applied for. If not, the application is rejected.
- Business rule #14: An adopter must be 18 or older. If not, the application is rejected.
- Business rule #15: An adopter can have only one Pending application at a time. A second one is rejected.
- Business rule #16: A valid new application starts as Pending and sets the pet to Pending. Approving sets the application to Approved and the pet to Adopted. Rejecting a Pending application sets the pet back to Available. This all happens in one transaction.

- Business rule #17: A pet, adopter or employee that has applications can’t be deleted.
- Business rule #18: If an adopted pet is returned, staff set it to Returned while it’s cared for, then back to Available. The original application stays Approved.
- Business rule #19: Pending and Adopted are set only by the application process. By hand, staff can only change Adopted to Returned and Returned to Available.
- Business rule #22: Only employees in the Adoption department can handle applications.
- Business rule #25: Every rejected application records its reason from the rejection reasons table. Other applications have no reason.
- Business rule #26: Staff must complete a home visit before approving. If it fails, the application is rejected.
- Business rule #27: Adopters who rent need their landlord’s permission. Without it, the application is rejected.
- Business rule #28: An adopted pet is never removed. Adoption only changes its status, so the pet keeps its record and pet_id for good. Only a pet with no applications, like one entered by mistake, can be deleted (Business rule #17).